

Adas Viliušis has been working for five years as a tutor of children with autism spectrum disorders (ASD) at "ISADD Lietuva" (Intervention Services for Autism and Developmental Delay). He holds a B.A. degree in Audiovisual Translation with a minor in English Philology from Vilnius University, wherein among many different translation disciplines he also studied the adaptation of audiovisual texts for the deaf, the hard-of-hearing, the blind and the visually impaired. Currently, he is writing his M.A. thesis on multimodal metaphors in political TV advertising.